Special note on double-page spreads

Because our magazines are perfect bound, special attention should be paid to design and production of material for double-page spreads. Beware text and pictures/graphics bleeding across the magazine spine. Apart from headlines, text should not be run across the magazine spine. If running headlines across the spine, a space 5 to 6mm should be left clear on the inside edges of the pages. Pictures or graphics bleeding across the magazine spine should incorporate a 10–14mm gutter overlay as per the illustration below.
